Manager Commentary

The MSCI Emerging Markets Index rose by 8.8% in US dollar terms in January, a sharp rebound from the double-digit percentage decline in 2018. By region, Latin America (+15%) led the way, followed by EMEA (+10.8%) and Asia (+7.3%). All sectors had positive returns, with the largest gains coming in consumer discretionary stocks (+13.2%).

Amongst the largest contributors to returns was the e-commerce company MercadoLibre, which has broad exposure to the Latin American consumer. Kroton, which offers private education in Brazil, was also in favour following a challenging 2018. Asian manufacturers that depend on consumer demand such as Samsung Electronics and Venture Corp both rebounded after a weak December.

In a quiet month for corporate news, there were fewer detractors from performance. Those of note included Chinese food and beverage manufacturer Dali Foods, India's HDFC Bank reported quarterly results that were broadly in-line with expectations and semiconductor manufacturer TSMC noted issues with production at one of their facilities.
