Manager Commentary

Following five distinctly weak months, July provided welcome relief for EM equity investors with the index recovering by 2%. Latin America (+9%) led the way, having previously been the most out of favour region. As well as global markets in general improving, some specific regional issues took a turn for the better. In Mexico, for example, Mr Lopez Obrador, the President-elect, calmed nerves when he made clear that he did not intend to introduce a slate of extreme populist policies and that he was willing to work with the private sector. Elsewhere, EMEA returned almost 5%, despite Turkey's problems. Asia returned 0.7%, held back somewhat by Chinese equities, which faced general downward pressure in the wake of an escalation of trade tensions. In terms of sectors, energy (+7%) and materials (+6%) led the way, helped by commodity price inflation, whereas consumer discretionary stocks (-2%) lagged.

The Fund's Latin American holdings bounced in sympathy with the broad market trend but patchy performance in Asia offset part of the gain. Argentina's MercadoLibre and Brazil's Kroton were amongst the top three contributors to performance for the month, alongside TSMC, which indicated improving trends in certain end-markets when it reported its Q2 figures. Amongst the detractors, Ctrip reversed the gains of the previous two months while Korean cosmetics company Amorepacific has found it a struggle to reinvigorate sales to Chinese consumers after geopolitical tensions caused disruption last year. Vakrangee had a relatively quiet month by its standards, although it is set to announce its next set of quarterly figures during August.
