Manager Commentary

The top contributors year to date were MarketAxess, Illumina and Novo Nordisk.

As a beneficiary of increased volatility, MarketAxess, the leading electronic bond trading platform, reported record quarterly trading volume (+29% yoy). The company's market share increased despite very strong new issuance, suggesting a potential inflection in electronic trading. Illumina is the leading producer of gene sequencing equipment. COVID-19 should act as a catalyst to speedier adoption of population gene sequencing by governments around the world and amplifies the long-term growth potential of this company. Novo Nordisk is the market leader in diabetes drugs. With the approval of the first oral GLP-1 drug last year, the company dominates this fast growing approach to controlling blood sugar levels. A strong pipeline, including disruptive insulins and glucose sensitive insulins, will raise the innovation bar higher extending its competitive advantage.

The top detractors year to date were Booking Holdings, Ulta Beauty and Intertek.

As an online travel agency, Booking Holdings has been severely impacted by the disruption caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. The company's financial strength and variable cost structure should enable it to withstand the near-term volatility and emerge stronger. Ulta Beauty is the leading US specialty beauty retailer with 1,266 stores across the country. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, management was forced to close all its stores on 19th March. Online accounts for 13.5% of sales. Intertek provides assurance, testing, inspection and certification services that ensure that customers' products meet quality, health, environmental, safety, and social accountability standards. The company's performance will be impeded by COVID-19's impact on supply chains and global demand.
