Manager Commentary

The main contributors year-to-date were Mastercard, MarketAxess and Alphabet.

Mastercard's September Investor Day highlighted the growth opportunities in B2B payments, on top of the secular shift from cash to electronic payments in consumer spending. The company reported strong quarterly results with acceleration in operating metrics throughout the year. MarketAxess' electronic bond trading platform continued to gain market share. Its proprietary all-to-all trading platform, Open Trading, was particularly strong with high double-digit volume growth. Alphabet benefited from a strong 2019 technology sector performance and its consistent delivery of 20%+ organic revenue growth throughout the year. With the addition of "Google Assistant" and "Photos" in 2019, it now has ten services with over one billion users.

The weakest performers year-to-date were Cognizant, Reckitt Benckiser and Ulta Beauty.

Cognizant reduced guidance due to weak demand trends and evidence of insourcing at its financial services vertical and prolonged M&A activity impacting healthcare performance. In addition, the company is experiencing pricing pressure in legacy contracts. Its long serving CEO, Francisco D'Souza, stepped down. Initiatives to re-accelerate growth have contributed to elevated staff attrition levels. Reckitt Benckiser cut its organic growth guidance twice in 2019 due to market conditions and internal issues at its health division (poor execution, innovation failures, flawed integration). The CEO was replaced with an outsider, Laxman Narasimham, formerly Global Chief Commercial Officer at PepsiCo. Ulta Beauty cut guidance as vendor innovation failed to reinvigorate US make-up category growth. Ulta continues to gain share across all beauty categories and has around 34 million loyalty members. .
