Manager Commentary

The fund is up 11.52% year-to-date in Euro terms, outperforming the MSCI World by 802 basis points. 199 basis points of excess returns were added in May.

The main contributors in May were Cognizant, Alphabet and Yum China. Cognizant, a leading provider of information technology, consulting and business process services reported strong Q1 results with a return to double-digit top line growth. The company has been under scrutiny regarding its use of H1-B visas, a non-immigrant visa in the US allowing US employers to employ foreign workers temporarily. Cognizant revealed that it had applied for half the number of visas in 2017 compared to 2016. The company also noted that the cost of a US worker is similar to a H1B visa holder: the biggest issue is finding skilled talent. Both Alphabet and Yum China experienced continued investor support following better than expected Q1 results reported in April.

The main detractors in May were Tiffany, FANUC and Automatic Data Processing (“ADP”). In spite of an easy comparison, Tiffany reported weak same-store-sales at the recent Q1 results. Store investments and focus on customer experience in the US have yet to translate into same-store-sales growth and higher store productivity; management remain confident these initiatives will eventually benefit. In addition, the company is improving its efforts around new products to attract millennial buyers. FANUC sold off following strength over the last ten months. ADP’s weakness arose from a few negative items reported at its quarterly results: new bookings declined and client retention dropped.

Strong organic revenue growth will help drive low double-digit earnings growth per annum over the next five years from the fund’s portfolio of high quality growth companies.
